Germans Based Victory Hopes Last Winter on Atom Bombs

By ROBERT MUSEL

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
WITH BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN OCCUPIED GERMANY, Aug. 8.—(BUP)—Germany's great wave of optimism last winter, it was revealed today, was based on the belief that rockets and buzz bombs equipped with atomic warheads would shortly be hurled against the Allies.
The Germans, it was learned, believed that their atom-smoking research was sufficiently advanced to enable them to win the scientific race with the Allies, and win it, the war.
Many details of this scientific race were still secret and shrouded in censorship, but it is known that the Nazis employed murder, kidnapping and espionage in an effort to beat the Allies to the secrets of the atom.
Under the personal order of Adolf Hitler atomic research was given top priority in Nazi scientific research.
Experimental stations were established at Nix-ken in Norway, in the Danish island of Bornholm, at Penemunde and the Chiemsee in Bavaria.

For at least a year it has been known in top circles that the Germans had made tremendous strides toward the perfection of the atom bomb, but were seriously handicapped by inability to get sufficient raw materials through the Allied blockade.
Another handicap was the death of the master mind of the scientific research staff whose name was believed to be Chaim-Chernak. He was killed in the RAF attack on the Penemunde laboratory.
One of the scientists involved in the experiments was Dr. Adolf Hofmann, who told Allied interrogators that the problem had reached the stage where solution was certain within a year if the German scientists had been allowed to work under the best conditions.
Hofmann called the atomic bomb "the ultimate in destruction."

Isolationist Daily Issues Threat

N. Y. Paper Urges Force If Needed To Get Canada's Uranium Supply

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(BUP)—The New York Daily News declared today that Canada should make its supplies of uranium available exclusively to the United States and suggested that if it is not to do so, steps should be taken to force the Dominion to meet this demand.

The isolationist newspaper, which boasts the largest circulation in the United States, pointed out that while the United States has limited sources of the indispensable element of the atomic bomb, the biggest deposits are in Canada's Great Lakes area.
"We have got to have uranium plenty of it, if it is to deliver the devastation claimed at Hiroshima," the Daily News editorial said.

"That means that Canada, already our ally in this war, will serve its own best interests as well as ours by making uranium available in quantity available to us at all times, and by making it not available to other nations."
WANT EXCLUSIVE USE
The editorial in the Daily News, which accepted the United Nations charter on a "wait and see" basis, went on:

"As to uranium, Canada should make itself our ally in this war, exclusive ally. If it won't do so, well, we now have the jump on the rest of the world as regards the manufacture and manipulation of atom bombs, and enough patriotic Americans can probably be found to see to it that Canada does the right thing by us and by itself with its uranium."

The newspaper, PM contended that "only government ownership and operation can ensure the full development and the wise use of atomic power, and added that the Canadian government, though right in its policy, seems to have grasped this fundamental principle only too late.

"ISN'T MONOPOLY?"
It recalls that two years ago, the Canadian government "nationalized" Eldorado Mining and Refining company, Ltd., "the world's largest producer of uranium, and declared that all new discoveries of this precious ore would be the property of the crown."
The editorial article, written by F. L. Stone, said that "the development of atomic energy is not a monopoly we can hope to keep to ourselves." It points out that the Germans, the Swedes and the Danes, as well as the British and Canadians, have been working on the problem of atomic energy for many years.

Three Daylight Raids Superforts Renew Attacks on Japan

From CP, AP and BUP Dispatches
HEADQUARTERS PACIFIC STRATEGIC AIR FORCE, GUAM, Aug. 8.—Three new bombing raids were made on the Japanese home islands today, and Japan's war in a military potential, already said depleted, was dealt its further crushing blow.

Nearly 100 Superforts, hitting Japan for the fourth time in 24 hours, sent incendiaries crashing into the "Big J" city of Fukuoka shortly before midnight (Japanese time).
The new blow in a round-the-clock offensive by the 20th Air Force followed two late afternoon demolition strikes at the Nakajima Musashino aircraft plant in Tokyo and the once mighty Tokyo arsenal, and a machine-gunning daylight raid with more than 1,000 tons of explosives on the great steel center of Yawata.

15th OF WARNED CITIES
Fukuoka was the 15th of 31 cities warned by the B-29 command to be blasted by incendiaries, and the 62nd Japanese city to be burned out of existence by the Superforts. The city is on the Inland Sea, with a large steel plant.

Some Men Needed Gen. Crerar Lauds Troops, Speaks on Repatriation

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—(CP)—Gen. Crerar disclosed here last night that when the 1st Canadian Corps was sent to action in the Mediterranean it was on the understanding that they would join the 2nd Corps as part of the 1st Canadian Army when it was possible to make such a move.

Replying to questions ranging from repatriation to the rate of Hitler and the atomic bomb, the General spent nearly an hour with reporters.

He began the conference with a tribute to his men.

"Canada is getting back a better man than she sent overseas," he said.

MEN DEVELOPED

Physically his men had developed, travel had broadened their vision; their association with the men of other nations had broadened their character. He felt no fears for their future in the community. They had never failed him.

It was stated by the General that the 1st Corps was moved out of Italy to join the 2nd Corps in Northwest Europe.

He replied actually the 1st Corps had gone to the Mediterranean with the "clear understanding" they would rejoin their comrades in the 1st Army when it was possible.

"This plan dated back in the time the arrangements were first made for the move to North Africa," he added.

KEY MEN NEEDED

Turning to repatriation, he said that already 30,000 high point men had been dispatched home along with 16,000 volunteers for Pacific service.

It was not possible to send home key men such as officers, clerks, cooks, warrant officers, pay corps men, service corps men and others.

These were needed to feed, clothe, entertain and pay the men still overseas.

"Unfortunately, the great majority of these men were in high score men whereas in other services, such as infantry, where casualties caused a rapid turnover in men, scores were low.

However, while the army was repatriated overseas an orderly organization must be maintained and the key men must remain to maintain the army.

These key men would be spared as the other categories were dispatched home. But the rate of their repatriation would be necessary to be slower.

"I can't lose my key men or my organization would collapse," he said.

The reinforcement problem last fall had been "a tough one," but the difficulties were "chiefly tactical."

By this he meant that infantry casualty rates were based on the First Great War rate of 50 per cent whereas in this war the rate was 70 per cent. "However," he added, "as it happened everything turned out all right."

In this connection he said he wanted to pay a tribute to the RMA, then who served in the 1st Army.

"They fought extraordinarily well," he added. He was "quite certain" that some of them had won decorations.

Date For Atomic Bombing Long Set

GUAM, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Brig. Gen. Thomas F. Farrell, Albany, N.Y., disclosed yesterday that the Aug. 3 North American date for dropping the first atomic bomb on the enemy was set "well over a year ago."

Gen. Farrell, aide to Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves who was in charge of the bomb development program, said a new conference the goal was set in order to lay out a schedule for completing the huge project.

He said he doubted if a mere distribution of purchasing power through full employment in peacetime would solve economic problems.

"I suggest the theory of full employment under peacetime conditions in this modern mechanized age is as antiquated as an old maid's dream and as impossible of realization," said Mr. Manning.

Remand Charge
WINNIPEG, Aug. 8.—(CP)—The case of 16-year-old Armand Prosser, charged with the murder of Betty Smith, was remanded here yesterday until August 14 following the uncovering of "further evidence."

The 15-year-old girl was found stabbed to death in a St. Boniface archery field on July 29.

Drew to Accept Govt. Proposals For Discussion

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—(CP)—Premier George Drew of Ontario said yesterday he accepted the federal government proposals as a basis of discussion, but added the proposals were so complex he would not make any immediate submissions to the Dominion-provincial conference.

Speaking at an afternoon session of the conference when provincial premiers were to meet, Mr. Drew urged that all provinces accept the Dominion brief, presented at the opening of the conference Monday, as the basis of discussion and that they study the proposals thoroughly before presenting proposals of their own.

STAND OF ONTARIO
"I must not simply bow to any suggestions, but we of Ontario, must remember that we are responsible for the welfare of 4,000,000 people," said Mr. Drew, speaking slowly and measuring his words.

These 4,000,000 people would contribute 50 per cent of all the money, federal or provincial, that would be paid for the carrying out of any conclusion reached.

He repeated that he believed no proposals should have been submitted until the conference had appointed a chairman, and saved itself into a conference, public or on an agenda and tried whether action would be possible or not.

MUST SUCCEED
"The Dominion proposals now were public and the best had to be made of the situation. We must not simply bow to the conference to succeed, the conference must succeed," he said.

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—(CP)—Premier John H. Macdonald of Ontario last night accepted Dominion government proposals as the basis of discussion for the Dominion-provincial conference on reconstruction.

Mr. Macdonald's statement was made to make beyond his statement Monday on inquiry of his province.

Plan Inquiry Into
Vote Irregularities
SASKATON, Aug. 8.—(CP)—Dr. Carlyle King, acting president of the Saskatchewan section of the CCF, said here yesterday he had received a letter from Jules Cloutier, chief electoral officer, saying there will be an inquiry into alleged "irregularities" which the CCF claims existed in the voting at poll No. 56 in Melville constituency during the June 11 federal general election.

The Saskatchewan CCF requested the inquiry July 30 in a telegram to Mr. Cloutier by Dr. King and J. Arthur, of Melville, agent for H. J. Benson, CCF member in the constituency.

Earlier Agriculture Minister Gardner, Liberal candidate in the constituency, also requested inquiry into "certain aspects of the voting."

The irregularities were discovered during a recount of votes cast in the constituency, one of 12 ballots according to Mr. Gardner which had apparently been marked for Mr. Benson, instead of the "x" raised and remarked for the agriculture minister.

Postpone Parley
LONDON, Aug. 8.—(Reuters)—The conference of the preparatory committee of the World Security Organization has been postponed for a week, a foreign office spokesman said last night. The meeting now will open in London, Aug. 10.

Postponement was decided at the request of the United States government, which has not named its delegation.

PROBLEMS AT HAND
The solution of problems with which we are dealing will have a good deal to do with whether we shall be able to maintain full employment and our present high national income," he said.

The crux of the postwar economic problem was to replace the huge wartime market with an equally large peacetime market. To accomplish this, an export market would have to be maintained at a high point.

"Quite apart from any humanitarian moral or social reasons we must out of pure economic necessity must very substantially raise the standard of living of the Canadian people after the war," Mr. Garson said.

DUTY OF GOVERNMENTS
The holder that it is the duty of governments in Canada to co-operate in creating an environment in which free enterprise can find wide full employment. Beyond that, it is up to free enterprise. If it does not succeed, state action necessarily follows for no government today can face the social and political consequences of mass unemployment, nor can it face the financial consequences."

The Dominion-provincial financial setup of Confederation was conceived in the age of the sailing ship and hand ax and the duty to meet the requirements of the power-driven mass production age of 1945.

That setup placed the onus for employment relief on the municipalities and provinces which were forced to increase taxes, particularly on land, at a time when as much purchasing power as possible should be in the hands of the taxpayers.

HIGHER EXPENSES
"The provinces must face after the war very large normal increases in public health, public welfare and educational expenses," the brief continued. "The majority of the provinces cannot expect their local incomes on the basis of

For New Atomic Bomb May Revise Air War Tactics

By JAMES J. STREIB
WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(CP)—Air war tactics will be revised sharply if the atomic bomb can be delivered as simply as conventional types.

A few fast bombers, heavily protected by fighters and flying above effective radar range, could accomplish a mission which now requires hundreds of large planes.

If the tremendous forces involved in atomic disintegration of the industrial types, they might be employed either in propelling the bombers or sending out remote-controlled missiles.

CHARGE IS SMALL
The explosive charge has been described as extremely small, but the official defense of the bomb test in New Mexico indicates that complex and possibly heavy apparatus is necessary to detonate the charge.

That may be the answer to the role of the Consolidated B-32, newest warplane in the inventory. If the new bomb is heavy and bulky, the B-32 may be adapted to house it, rather than those of the B-29 Superfortress. The B-32 may also be adapted to house it as a single unit, while those of the B-29 are separated by a wing.

The number of persons involved in production indicates a high cost in man hours. A high-placed Allied air official recently criticized the German V-2 for its production cost, but the same argument would not be valid against the new bomb because its destructive capacity is thousands of times that of the rocket bomb.

Atomic Bomb Test
Was "Passed Off"
As Munitions Blast
ALAMOGORDO, N.M., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Detonation of the first atomic bomb near here July 16, with a flash and rumble witnessed by some 200 miles of the desert, was passed off as a munitions explosion.

The Army guardedly announced that a considerable amount of high explosive and propellant had been touched off, but there was no loss of life.

A wave of excited inquiry followed the blast, and The Associated Press received queries from all over a wide area of New Mexico and Arizona.

5,721 One Lives
To Rescue Unit
LONDON, Aug. 8.—(Reuters)—A total of 5,721 Allied airmen were rescued from the gallant crew of the launches and planes of the German U-boat rescue service who picked them out of the water near British ships after the U-boat was sunk last night. Overseas units of the service rescued at least 3,200 airmen and in areas other than the sea around Great Britain, 4,605 airmen, sailors and civilians were saved.

Plan Big Project
CANBERRA, Aug. 8.—(CP)—Air Minister Dr. H. V. E. Evatt announced yesterday the cabinet has approved a plan to build a new airport for the war project for development of the Sydney airport. He said the airport would be one of the most modern in the world and work would be begun as soon as practicable.

To Stand Trial
FRANKFURT-ON-MAIN, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Karl Hermann Frank, Nazi protector of Bohemia-Moravia, was flown to Prague yesterday to stand trial for the role of the most modern in the world and work would be begun as soon as practicable.

cause the governments were unable to borrow elsewhere and were a measure of the magnitude of the provinces and municipalities to carry a burden which was never intended to be theirs. On that ground they should be cancelled.

In addition to a very substantial increase in the Dominion subsidies to the provinces Manitoba proposed annual payment of an adjustment grant to provinces which could qualify on the basis of their financial need and provision for emergency grants to provinces in which abnormality had conditions prevailed.

UNUSUAL EXPENDITURES
The provinces should also be given the right to resort to appropriate taxes so they could, in a financially responsible way, finance any unusual expenditures.

"What we seek as a reform is to restore the meaning and intent of the British North America act. By applying the principles of Confederation to the facts of 1945," said Mr. Garson.

"By cooperative action of the provinces and Dominion we can do this without any amendment of the constitution. Indeed by so doing we will retain its meaning and intent rather than depart from it. And when we have done this we shall find that we shall have solved our problems."

To maintain full employment, avoid inflation and maintain the sound banking and credit system, the entire Canadian tax system must be high enough to prevent inordinate budgetary deficits on the one hand and low enough on the other hand to leave with the taxpayer sufficient purchasing power to maintain full employment," the brief suggested.

To accomplish the measure of control necessary over the provinces there would have to be greater co-ordination of federal, provincial and municipal taxes.

TWO ALTERNATIVES
Faced with heavy financial responsibilities after the war, the federal government would have the alternative of increasing income taxes, which would have an adverse effect on employment, or continuing to cut direct taxes to prevent inordinate budgetary deficits on the one hand and low enough on the other hand to leave with the taxpayer sufficient purchasing power to maintain full employment," the brief suggested.

Advances made to the provinces by the Dominion for relief purposes and by provinces to municipalities were necessary be-

Tells of Petain's Deal With Britain
By BELMAN MORIN
PARIS, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Admiral Jean Fenet told the court trying Marshal Petain on charges of treason that the old soldier approved secret negotiations with Great Britain in 1940 shortly after the German occupation of France.

He said the Marshal approved the visit to London of Prof. Louis Rouquier, and that he returned from conferences with former Prime Minister Churchill and the former Foreign Secretary, Anthony Eden, with a working agreement.

The witness said Britain agreed to take no aggressive action against French colonies if the Vichy government would not attempt to regain control of territory held by Gen. de Gaulle's Fighting French.

Under the proposed plan, Admiral Fenet said Britain would have relaxed the blockade if Vichy agreed not to help Germany in the war.

Prof. Rouquier has written a book published in Canada, about the negotiations, which official British statements branded as a distorted account. He now is in New York.

For Occupation
LONDON, Aug. 8.—(CP)—The Luxembourg radio said yesterday the Palestine Brigade, in which many Jewish refugees served, was in the occupation of Germany.

Attlee Holds Long Cabinet Meeting
LONDON, Aug. 8.—(CP)—Military chiefs held in the direction of the war effort were summoned by the first, since the outbreak of the war, to an almost unprecedented cabinet meeting, which lasted three hours.

Speculation on the subject of the projected discussion was based almost entirely on what they may have heard about the efforts of the first atomic bomb dropped on Japan.

Accord Between Britain, France
In 1940 Claimed
PARIS, Aug. 8.—(CP)—Prof. Jacques Chevalier, minister of education and health in the Vichy government, testified yesterday at the treason trial of Marshal Petain that Pierre Dupuy, Canadian minister to Vichy, informed Marshal Petain Dec. 12, 1940, that Britain had accepted French terms for an accord to establish a "modus vivendi" between the two countries.

He said Mr. Dupuy brought a personal message from the French government, saying it was necessary to hold the treaty in order to keep the British from attacking French ships.

Prof. Chevalier's reference in his testimony to the "modus vivendi" was in his letter to the minister.

"Tell our French friends we must not fail on each other's necks. At the first of the war, we must not fail on each other's necks. At the first of the war, we must not fail on each other's necks. At the first of the war, we must not fail on each other's necks."

He continued, "Lord Halifax in his letter to me said: 'Tell our French friends we must not fail on each other's necks. At the first of the war, we must not fail on each other's necks. At the first of the war, we must not fail on each other's necks.'"

Prof. Chevalier said that the immediate result was that French ships were permitted to pass Gibraltar. The witness said Lord Halifax was of his own mind in France.

First Reading Given Bylaw To Improve Home Standards

City council, at a meeting held Tuesday, gave first reading to a bylaw designed to improve housing standards in the city, and also to give the city architect power to refuse a building permit in any case where, in his opinion, the finished dwelling will be so far below the standard of other existing homes as to depreciate property values in the neighborhood.

One amendment provides that any building intended for use as a dwelling shall be located not less than 35 feet from the property line at the rear of the lot on which it is being built.

Another amendment deals with specific additional minimum standards which are largely based on the national building code. Certain subsections of these amendments actually reduce the existing standards as contained in the present building bylaws.

MINIMUM STANDARDS

The following minimum standards for rooms were approved: living room, a minimum floor space of 130 square feet, with the minimum width 10 feet; dining room, minimum floor space, 90 feet and minimum width eight feet; kitchen, minimum floor space 50 square feet with a minimum width of five feet; first bedroom, 110 square feet with a minimum width of nine feet, and additional bedroom, 80 square feet with a minimum width of seven feet.

Combination rooms shall comply to the following minimum requirements: living and dining room, 19 square feet; minimum floor space, with 10 ft. minimum width; living and dining room, 30 square feet of floor space with 10 feet minimum width; kitchen and dining room, 50 square feet with seven feet minimum width; living, dining and bedroom, 230 square feet with 10 feet minimum width; and living, dining rooms and kitchen, 230 square feet with 10 feet minimum width.

A combination room shall not be divided other than by a beam in the ceiling, and, or by cabinet not over four feet high.

Under the proposed amendments a kitchen alcove or dining alcove shall have a minimum floor area of 30 square feet and a depth not exceeding the width of the open side.

CEILING HEIGHTS

Ceiling heights shall not be less than the following: Basement floors, to underside of beams, six feet, four inches clear height; principal habitable rooms except bedrooms, eight feet clear height; bedrooms and secondary habitable rooms, seven feet, six inches clear height; provided that sloping ceilings may be used in such rooms if at least 50 per cent of the floor area has a clear height of seven feet eight inches and provisions.

The turnip is said to be grown in every temperate climate to some degree, having a distinct flavor, it is widely used in distorting soup and stews. It is also cooked by itself as a separate vegetable. The most delicate flavor is found in the turnip of small size, in which the carbohydrate content is not over 5 per cent. The more mature the turnip, the higher the carbohydrate content and when you are sitting at the table and eating the largest size turnips, you are getting a vegetable having a carbohydrate content of about 10 per cent. In other words, you are eating a medium-starchy vegetable. Raw turnips are considered good sources of vitamin C. Parsnips, when mature, are credited with a carbohydrate content of 15 per cent. The fleshy white root possesses a flavor which is enjoyed by many, although others dislike it. Some growers leave a part of the crop in the ground through the winter, believing that the flavor will be better when this is done than when the roots are dug and stored away. Apparently freezing does not injure parsnips. This vegetable is ranked as a good source of vitamin B.

Oyster Plant or Salsify, should be used as young as possible before the starch has had time to develop. The flavor is very bland and agreeable. Do not scrape the oyster plant, but wash well with a vegetable brush and cook in plain water. When cut up thin and seasoned with cream and butter the flavor will slightly resemble that of an oyster stew. Oyster plant is very wholesome non-starchy vegetable and deserves a much wider use. Because of Rutabagas being in that class of non-starchy vegetables which may easily cause fermentation, I suggest that they be used with caution by those who have any tendency toward excessive stomach and intestinal gas. Those of good health who do not suffer from gas after their use, may take occasion for the sake of variety.

The Rutabaga is also called the Swedish turnip and the carbohy. content is around 10 per cent. The yellow flesh has a taste somewhat similar to that of a turnip, being fairly sweet. Celeries, also called Knol Celery, or Turnip Celery, is a variety of celery, grown for its larger, eddier root. It may be added to soups and stews, and will be found to add to the flavor.

When you run out of ideas about what winter vegetable to serve, I suggest that you look over this list. I have given you hints as to what I will provide you with a suggestion which is usable.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self-addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 181 West 5th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Set Ceiling Prices For Spring Lamb

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—(C.P.)—Ceiling prices on wholesale cuts of spring lamb have been set by an order which became effective Monday, the price board announced last night. The new prices for wholesale cuts are in line with carcass ceiling prices which were established to allow an extension of the higher price period from July 18 to Aug. 31. The new wholesale ceiling varies according to the region in which the distribution is made, and full information on the schedule has been sent to all wholesale dealers.

WELL it's back to the sports desk again after a two-week sojourn in the Canadian Rockies, an outing which obviously is decidedly popular, judged by the sharp increase in the number of holiday-seekers in mountain areas this season.

And just in case any trouminded citizens are contemplating an expedition in the near future, it is respectfully suggested that neither Constable nor Sheriff be overlooked. Both are within easy reach of Lake Louise. If one mountainer is not looking for the heights over-looking Pelly Lake on the Jasper-Banff highway should just about fill the bill. And as to emergency help for the raincoat or speckled hat, well, Harold Magister, Hove, K.C. recommends a place of particularly hot string.

DODGERS DID IT
THAT 6-5 win by Dodgers over the Arrows at Renfrew Park on Thursday night set the stage for a first-class scramble for berths in the post season series of the Edmonton senior ball circuit.

U.S. Signals, with a two-game advantage, met Arrows on Thursday night and the Signals, three scheduled fixtures remaining, Dodgers, a single game away from Arrows, have five left to play, the same as Yanks.

Dodgers will not meet Arrows in a regular schedule, but they go against Yanks three times and the Signals three times. Should Arrows win just one of their three games, Dodgers must take four of their five to make the playoffs.

Good Wrestling Card

"The Angel" Tackles Fans By Nailing Ted Christy

By CEC GOLDSTICK
The Angel came through last night. He lived up to expectations both in appearance and ring technique. A packed house at the Empire Theatre saw him take the odd fall in three over Hollywood's "Bad Man" Ted Christy.

This really pleased the fans, too, as Christy, who usually never has a friendly with the Angel, had to admit that the Angel was a pretty good wrestler. He suggested that one should give a patron to keep him away from here.

Not fans gazed in wonderment as the grotesque figure of the Angel climbed through the ropes. There have been many "odd" characters in Edmonton rings but the Angel obviously was none. One fan, who was very sympathetic towards Christy, but after seeing Hollywood's gladiator in action, quickly switched his sympathies to the more "gentle" Angel.

Right at the start Christy made the mistake by playing the ropes too much. After he took the first fall with a stepover leg spread and using the ropes for more pressure behind the referee's back, the Angel then played the fans on the ropes.

STRATEGY BACKFIRES
The colorful Hollywood grappler attempted a flying tackle once after coming out for the second fall, but this backfired when he thought he ran into a brick wall. He was dashing across the ring and bounced off the Angel like a dead tree falling to the ground. The Angel then played the fans by working on Christy with his favorite bear hug hold. Ted didn't like it.

Come out for the final fall Christy used almost everything he had in the ring. He even tried to put the boots to the Angel and this time he was successful. He tried to hit the Angel with the end of his foot, but the Angel dodged it. Christy then ran right into a flying mare, but he was not defeated when the Angel polished him off with a body press.

SEMIWINDUP TO HIGGINS
Bud Higgins was awarded the semi-windup after bouncing his opponent Fritz Schmitt on the apron plenty hard. Previous to that they

Morgan's Clutch Hit in 10th Drives Green Home With Winner

Arrows Beat Green in Title Chase

Brant Yields Only Single Earned Run

By HAL DEAN
RALPH MORGAN'S clutch hit in the 10th inning, which scored Green in the lower half of the 10th, gave Dodgers a 6-5 win over Arrows at Renfrew Park on Tuesday night and kept them in the battle for a berth in the Senior Baseball League.

Green had formed the Dodger portion of the extra frame with a double and was sacrificed to third by Harry O'Neil. Jack Carney fouled out to Des O'Connor at third, but Morgan came through with his third safety of the evening.

In making up his fifth victory of the year Tommy Brant allowed only one earned run, although he was hit in the eighth and ninth. Brant pitched a complete game in the 10th, giving up a single to Mickey Gurganus, but the Arrows' winning long odd and then coming back again a few days later and only paying a short mutual price.

Of course one realizes that it is not the hardened receiver who has a reputation of being a safe for the Dodger's payroll. There are many citizens who go to the track on occasions and who do not know anything at all of the sport or the system of wagering used. It would be a waste of the public's time to explain the same large payoff.

This of course cannot be for it is evident that the horse had come from in winning his previous race and accordingly receive plenty of support when he makes his next appearance in a race.

Two hits, a pair of errors and a walk gave Arrows their lead in the 10th. Morgan's clutch hit in the 10th, which scored Green in the lower half of the 10th, gave Dodgers a 6-5 win over Arrows at Renfrew Park on Tuesday night and kept them in the battle for a berth in the Senior Baseball League.

Green had formed the Dodger portion of the extra frame with a double and was sacrificed to third by Harry O'Neil. Jack Carney fouled out to Des O'Connor at third, but Morgan came through with his third safety of the evening.

In making up his fifth victory of the year Tommy Brant allowed only one earned run, although he was hit in the eighth and ninth. Brant pitched a complete game in the 10th, giving up a single to Mickey Gurganus, but the Arrows' winning long odd and then coming back again a few days later and only paying a short mutual price.

Of course one realizes that it is not the hardened receiver who has a reputation of being a safe for the Dodger's payroll. There are many citizens who go to the track on occasions and who do not know anything at all of the sport or the system of wagering used. It would be a waste of the public's time to explain the same large payoff.

Finalists Named Ladies' Doubles Of Tennis Meet

The game, like the other two, was hard fought all the way and it was only the breaks that decided the outcome. The first game ended in a tie, 1-1, as the Flyers won the next 2-1 in 14 innings.

Ed. Malloy started off the winning rally last night for the Flyers when he opened the bottom half of the 10th with a single to right field. Catcher Carl Miller and crossed to first base. Wullenweber pulled a nice game in holding the RCAF square to four hits, but two unearned runs in him the game. Stu Cowan was jumped on for 10 hits, but kept them well scattered.

Today's Sport Parade

By Jack Cuddy

LONDON, Aug. 8.—(BUP)—Now that the holocaust of war is just a bitter memory to the thousands of American servicemen still in Europe, the army is ready with the biggest and most concentrated sports program in history to make them forget battles and their burning desire to come home.

There are two million men, mostly combat veterans, who are awaiting redeployment which necessarily must be delayed many months because shipping facilities are so urgently needed for the Pacific theater.

Major Gen. Ben Sawbridge, chief of the Athletics Division of the Army Sports Service, explained what the army intended to do.

"All of these men wish to return home right away which is impossible," he said. "But we can't let them rot. They deserve top treatment while they are waiting. It is our job to keep them happy and to prevent homesickness."

CAN'T KEEP DRILLING
Now that they are no longer in combat, we can't keep drilling constantly. Hence we must turn their energy into athletics, the kind where all compete. And we must entertain them with progressive competitions wherein finally the best compete in big tournaments taping divisional prize.

Sawbridge said he saw "no possibility" of the American world series baseball teams coming to Europe to play on their classic for the "weather after September 15." The rainy and unsteady climate attempts anything like that, Sawbridge said.

Sawbridge, a former Stanford University student who said he never made the team, must turn their energy into athletics, the kind where all compete. And we must entertain them with progressive competitions wherein finally the best compete in big tournaments taping divisional prize.

DISTRIBUTE EQUIPMENT
Now being distributed as fast as transportation facilities are available are huge stockpiles of softball, baseball and volleyball equipment. The staff also is involved in the supervision of many tournaments now in progress. They include baseball, softball, golf, tennis, track and field, archery, horseback riding and swimming.

Boxing now is being carried on informally throughout the seven European sports commands, but will be included with football at one of the major phases of the winter program.

From a long range standpoint, Sawbridge emphasized that the sports program indirectly will benefit the European people as much as it does the G.I.s.

It will be a big help to the future citizens of Europe, particularly the German children, who will be learning about how to play baseball instead of kicking each other, he said. "Maybe that is what was learned by the G.I.s with the war, never learned to play baseball."

Wins Mention
OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—(CP)—Lieut. William Atkinson of Winnipeg has been mentioned in dispatches for gallant service with the Royal Navy's fleet air arm, it was learned last night.

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

By ALAN HARVEY

TORONTO, Aug. 8.—(CP)—Canada's reputation internationally as a producer of top-flight tennis material, precisely at vanishing point through the war years, seemed slated for a lift from an unexpected source. From Vancouver it's announced that 19-year-old Lester Main of the coast city's Jericho Club has been invited to compete in the United States national championships at Los Angeles in September.

The invitation is rare enough for a Canadian. Apart from the age angle, it's particularly intriguing in Main's case. He stands only five foot three, weighs 107 pounds and uses the unfamiliar two-handed grip at all times. He didn't touch a racket until he was nine—and same year was a sensation in a tournament for newspaper carrier boys in Vancouver.

He won his first tournament at 11 in competition against boys under 16. He never had a coach, but last month he won the Vancouver title. On July 21, he won the Washington state boys' championship.

Tales that horsesmen tell at a tough day at the track are pretty faithful at times. But Jim (Torero) to Globe and Mail Coleman's latest tells them all.

It's about a horse that had a walkover—and still didn't win. In this case—the horse was named Big Red and the "race" took place at Chicago many years ago.

Big Bear, says Coleman, fell at the end of the jumps. Remounted, he fell again. Well, the horse fell to often he failed to finish. In a specific time limit—and forfeited the purse.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(AP)—It's opportunity day for such Johnny-come-latelys as rookie Art Rebel of St. Louis, Byron Laforest of Boston Red Sox and Tommy Brown of Brooklyn as the major league clubs stock up on talent for the final third of the pennant drive.

With recruits moving up from the minors in wholesale lots, players like Hank Borow and Lou Finney changing uniforms and service stars returning to the game, fans have to look hard to recognize their favorite clubs today when play is resumed after a two-day travel lull.

Rebel, a chubby left-hander from the Cardinals camp, jumped into the Cardinals' lineup to replace the injured Al Schindler and batted the apple at a 425 pace in eight games. If he can keep it up while the Red Birds tour the east for the last time, he will be an important factor in their bid to catch the Cubs. St. Louis also brought up pitcher Bill Crouch and the veteran infielder, Pete Brown, still a factor in the National League race, brought in Tom Brown from St. Paul along with pitcher Ralph Branca and catcher Pat Donohue. ## Nineteen Named To Compete Today In Hambletonian

GOSHEN, N.Y., Aug. 8.—Nineteen three-year-old trotters, forming the largest field since the stake was first raced in 1936, today were named for today's renewal of the Hambletonian over Good Time track.

The race, with Titan Hanover the odds-on favorite, will be worth slightly more than $1,000, the richest since the Marchioness took the money in 1936, when $85,230. In 1932, Horsemans accounted for the large field by reason that the battle for the second money is considered wide open.

Rain fell all day Monday, leaving the track a quagmire. Topping Tuesday's opening card of the 18 starters and the Gosses Stake for two-year-old pacers with eight nonrunners.

If the weather and track are favorable today some 15,000 fans are expected to tax the capacity of the sprawling stands.

Titan Hanover, a son of Calumet Chuk, last won E. Roland Harrison and Capt. Eldridge T. Gerry $5,000 as a yearling, but now faces defeat since making his debut last year, he set up a world standard of two minutes flat for two-year-olds, let up new juvenile marks for two years.

The size of the field can be attributed to the wide open race for the five other money spots. Titan's rivals have taken turns in the race since the money spots. Titan's rivals have taken turns in the race since the money spots.

It Says Here

by Bob Hope

BREMEN, Germany.—We really covered a lot of the Reich today. We had a 10:30 show at Vegaback about 30 miles northwest of Bremen, and went on for about 5,000 yards from a handstand in a big outdoor beer garden. It really was a wonderful feeling to see all those great American kids sitting there, joking, talking and laughing when we knew that just a short time ago they had been filled with Nazis and Hitler Yungies who came to pound on tables and "Hock" and "Hell" and listen to hysterical speeches by local party leaders.

One thing I found out, and plenty for these 200 Division boys. It doesn't pay to refer to them as "occupation troops." When you do, they all yell, "No, no, no, no." They are high point men who've "had it" for a long time, and they want to get back home. We were a little late in getting away and went from Vegaback to Nordenham via fast jet. What a ride. I've heard about German super-highways but so far all the roads we've seen are eight foot wide, are built out of lumpy bricks, and have more holes than a pair of pre-war nylon.

And the guys who were being guided us must be part Indian. The way he took us down back roads and across fields, through the woods, and we got there a German ferry was on the other side. Nothing happened when we pulled in the HP with us whipped off his rifle and fired six or seven shots in the air. The ferry got over so fast it forgot to touch water in five places. I can't say much for German boats, but the German countryside is really beautiful. We fine cattle, sheep and hogs. During our second show I noticed two little kids down front in G.I. outfits. They were about six and eight years of age. One wore a first sergeant's stripes and the other sported a lieutenant's bars. I called them up on the stage but they weren't very good straight men. They were Russian exiles who had been adopted as mascots by one of the outfits with the 28th Division, and the only thing I noticed got of them was "Hokay-dake."

We did another show at Nordenham this evening, then they swept us up and got us back to Bremen. I may give up juggling permanently. After the first mile I got paralyzed from the waist down. After the second mile the jeep started complaining.

Regrets Invention Of Atomic Bombs

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The Vatican City newspaper L'Osservatore Romano Tuesday called the new atomic bomb dropped on Japan "a catastrophic conclusion . . . to the war's apocalyptic surprises."

It compared the invention of the atomic bomb with the invention of a submarine by Leonardo da Vinci.

It expressed regret that the bomb's inventors did not, like Da Vinci, destroy their creation in the interest of humanity.

"Da Vinci wanted to defeat death by thought," L'Osservatore said, "but the road of men who have not his Christian charity must defeat death by death. This incredible destructive instrument remains a temptation, if not for horrified contemporaries, then for posterity, to whom little is taught by history."

(The Encyclopaedia Britannica says that Leonardo "knew of a

“Hospital on Wheels” Shows Care Being Given Wounded Soldiers

Every convenience for the care and comfort of Canadian wounded servicemen being transported on Canadian railways has been incorporated in the “hospital on wheels” which is now being used on the second floor of The T. Eaton Company (Western) Limited store, two weeks starting Thursday.

His Honor Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen will open the display at 10 a.m. Thursday.

The 75-foot long hospital car, designed and constructed by the Canadian National Railway, is now being used on the CNR and CPR.

ERECT PLATFORM One whole side of the car has been replaced with plate glass and a platform has been erected at floor level so visitors may have an unobstructed view of the facilities.

The car is decorated in soft-tinted pastel shades, the flooring is of polished mahogany. Soft, diffused lighting and air-conditioning gear, together with the greatest measure of comfort for the wounded.

SERVE MEALS When war is served on individual trays and during the day tea, coffee, milk and fruit juices are dispensed from a built-in canteen.

At the rear of the car is a small compartment for the nurse in charge of the wounded. This is a small, compact dispensary or first-aid station, which is the latest type of medical facility.

The display was brought to Edmonton by A. L. Saul, Montreal, president of the Canadian National Railway, and Trans-Canada Air Lines.

Prefabricated Huts Can Meet City By-Laws

Proposed minimum building standards for city dwellings do not prohibit the erection of prefabricated huts in Edmonton, but their finished exteriors must conform in general architectural standards in the district in which they are to be erected, Mayor John W. Fry said Wednesday.

He said that the huts must conform to the minimum building standards as to interior construction.

IN HARMONY Mayor Fry advised prospective purchasers of prefabricated huts to see that their building plans were in harmony with the spirit of the proposed by-law before purchasing.

City Architect Maxwell C. Dewar, estimated at a meeting of city council Tuesday that purchasers of the prefabricated huts can make both the outside and interiors of these structures conform to the minimum requirements set out in the proposed amendments to the city's building by-law.

He said that rooms meeting the proposed minimum standards could be constructed in the prefabricated huts without changing the character of the neighbourhood, interior and exterior work will have to be done on the huts, he said.

The restrictions will serve to prevent any purchase of the huts from just being a matter of erecting a building on a lot and not doing any interior or exterior alterations.

Planning To Build Apartment House Purchase of property on the northeast corner of 84 avenue and 108 street was made Wednesday by R. G. Abernethy, a civil architect, for $13,250. It is proposed to erect a $150,000 apartment building on the site.

The Russian Ukrainian Church of Evangelical Christians purchased the south east corner lot on 108 street and 127 avenue as a site for a new church building. The church is proposed to build in the near future.

A DIFFERENCE In addition to the variance in the cost of the huts, the variance in their own facilities, while tracking companies use public highways and roads, the variance in the cost of the huts is also a factor.

The speaker explained that on the principle of allocation transportation costs on the railways are commodity may pay as high as 10 cents per ton for the haulage of a commodity, while the cost of the difference in moving huge quantities of products such as coal, wheat, lumber, at less than 1 cent so producers may compete in the world market.

It is only in these products, which pay a higher rate than other forms of transportation complete with the railways, Mr. Norman stated.

Arrange Program For Bomber's Visit A large four-engine Lancaster bomber will be the feature attraction of "Lancaster Day" Saturday, August 18, at the North West Command headquarters, RCAF, it was announced Wednesday.

The big aircraft will be on display for the general public, and a program of entertainment will be held. It has been lined up for visitors to the airport.

The "star" of the program has chucked up 84 operational bombing missions over Europe, dropping in that time more than 400 tons of bombs. Proceeds from the day's entertainment will go to the RCAF Hospital Fund, established to aid dependents of airmen whose lives were given during the war.

Edmonton is chairman of the Edmonton Bomber's Visit Committee. The program starts at 10 a.m. for children, and the official opening will take place at 2 p.m.

Track and field sports meet will be held at the same time as the Lancaster display, and a dance is also being planned.

TUNNEL UNDER HORSESHOE FALLS OPEN AGAIN

The new sightseeing tunnel at Canada's Horseshoe Falls opened on Aug. 4. The half-mile long passageway was hewn through solid rock by a construction firm. The main passageway and the portals that open behind the waterfall are six feet wide and seven feet high. Drenching spray blowing back through the observation openings necessitates the use of rubber coats, rubber helmets and high rubber boots. A side item of interest in the tunnel's opening is the fact that less than three dozen coats of the 800 in stock had to be replaced, although all had been in storage more than five years. At that time the former tunnel was closed to the public. It was no longer considered safe. Erosion had eaten away the face of the falls so much that the original tunnel was in danger of collapsing. At the same time wartime security measures necessitated closing the entire area to the public. Because the thousands of tons of water that spill over Niagara's brink every second create violent wind currents the tunnel needs no artificial ventilation system. At times these winds whip the stinging spray 30 to 40 feet high in from the observation platforms.

PEOPLE SPEND THEIR VACATIONS IN ROCKIES LEARNING TO CLIMB MOUNTAINS.

One way to spend your summer vacation is learning to climb mountains as these people are doing in the Canadian Rockies. They are members of the Alpine club.

Full climbing equipment is carried by Ruth Watkins of Portland, Ore., a member of the club. Ropes, crampons and climbing picks are essential to the safety of even experts in this hazardous pastime.

Precariously perched in an improvised "bosun's chair", Ruth lowers herself down Thunderbolt mountain going back to camp.

JET PLANE LIKE SPACE SHIP—This is a photo of the world's fastest airplane, the jet propelled P-50 Shooting Star, which was unveiled on the 38th birthday of the U.S. army air forces. Photographs of the propellerless Shooting Star, also released from the secrecy that has surrounded the super-fighter since its first flight in January, 1944, disclosed droppable fuel tanks mounted on inner shackles and faired into the extreme tips of the wings, giving the plane the out-of-this-world appearance of a Brick Bradford space ship. To reach its terrific speeds, faster than the top speed of any other plane and nearer the speed of sound than any other vehicle ever has been able to achieve, the Shooting Star uses super jet propulsion turbine, most powerful aircraft engine in the world. The Shooting Star has a wing span of 38 feet, 10 1/2 inches, an overall length of 34 feet 6 inches, and a height of 11 feet 4 inches. Total weight empty is approximately 3,000 pounds. Gross take-off weight with maximum fuel capacity is about 14,000 pounds.

POPULAR SOLDIER, DISTINGUISHED STRATEGIST, DEVOTED FAMILY MAN—THAT IS CANADA'S GOVERNOR-GENERAL DESIGNATE

With his family, Sir Harold Alexander is seen in this typical domestic scene in the garden of his home in Windsor Forest, pushing his son, Brian, on the swing, while his wife, the former Lady Margaret Bingham, daughter of the Earl of Lucan, looks on. Sir Harold is 53.

Combined operations in Italy are supervised by Sir Harold as he confers here with Rear-Adm. Alan Kirk of the U.S. navy. Ambitious operations did much to win the Battle of Italy for the Allied invasion forces.

MAKING PIGS OF THEMSELVES—When a quartet of 2-month-old pigs of C. S. Sparlin, near De Queen, Ark., showed a decided preference for cow's milk direct from Buttercup, the farmer had to pen them up. Above is barnyard scene that put the pigs in the pen.

LOVE KNOWS NO BOUNDS—OR SOMETHING—Appears Seymour Fields, New York, became enamoured of Adele Jergens when he saw her in a movie, so, instead of writing the usual impassioned fan letter, he decided to mail himself to her. So here he stands beside a mail box, all stamped up to the extent of $24.65, waiting to be picked up and mailed.

SHOW GIRL—Myrna Dell, above, former New York showgirl, went into the movies with the stipulation that she do no showgirl roles. So what? So she's playing a showgirl for her old Broadway show boss in the film musical "George White's Scandals."

Designing dresses was the ambition of Daphne Robinson. Now she can do it with the aid of her gratuity which helps navy personnel to become rehabilitated in former occupations.

Help in securing work for discharged personnel is available from members of the rehabilitation staff. Here, Lieut. Pat Milson calls a "contact" to assist a Wren. The navy also provides sources in many subjects and trades for many who never had jobs before the war.

Gratuities look good to racketeers, but care has been taken to protect potential victims. Here a Wren reads one of the booklets issued on the subject.
